

Let Go – © Samuel Müller 2012

This is how it ends if something like this starts.
I hate to say I told you so
So I didn't in the first place You knew it would never be the same
She knew it too
Still you destroyed it While everyone was preaching

Now you feel what it was
that was built and destroyed
that started and ended so bad
It gives you a hard time after those good times

The signs have been clear from the very first kiss to the ones you gave her while feeling it was wrong
She gave you hard times Wod-Grape gave you good times but after all it's blurry with tears in your eyes Everyone's pissed and in the end they all blame you

that was built and destroyed
that started and ended so bad
It gives you a hard time after those good times
Now you feel what it was
that was built and destroyed
that started and ended so bad
It gives you a hard time after those good times

No one knows what went wrong
'though we all saw it coming Something good was crashed to establish something better It failed but was still worth a try The pain came along but it will pass by

Now you feel what it was
that was built and destroyed
that started and ended so bad
Now you feel what it was
that was built and destroyed
that started and ended so bad
It gives you a hard time after those good times

that was built and destroyed
that started and ended so bad
It gives you a hard time after those good times
Let go all that has passed the good and the bad
the memory last*
